Flux cored welding wires are mainly developed for use in position, our AA 2209 is from the last generation flux cored wires with exceptional welding properties. For more information and different types of flux cored wires for Duplex stainless steel please go to our database.

Recently also a new fluxcored is added to our program that offers extreme high impact properties at temperatures down to -50 degrees Celsius, go to AA 2209 Pi.